News Release

DATE: July 25, 2007

TITLE: Oil Spill at Westridge Terminal, Burnaby , BC

Update at: Wednesday, July 25, 2007 – 12:00 PM (PDT)

Burnaby, British Columbia. Environmental remediation and clean up efforts are continuing after a third-party contractor struck Kinder Morgan Canada's pipeline in Burnaby at approximately 12:30 pm, Tuesday, July 24. No injuries were reported, and investigation into the incident is ongoing. Crews worked through the night on clean up, and continue to recover the oil.

After 12 hours, progress is as follows:

- Kinder Morgan Canada has initiated a full environmental assessment of the impacted area. Staff and emergency response officials are providing support and assistance to affected residents.
- Burrard Clean, a first response contractor, has marine booming in place in Burrard Inlet. As an added precaution, booming has been put in place at sensitive locations, including Barnet Marine Park.
- A wildlife assessment task force was on the water at 7:00 am this morning. Focus Wildlife has rescued five birds from the affected area.
- Crews continue to work along the shore line, and vacuum trucks continue to clean the area and storm sewers.
- Road remediation continues on Barnet Highway, with a status update expected this afternoon.

All possible steps are being taken to protect the environment. The Provincial Emergency Program, the City of Burnaby and Kinder Morgan Canada continue to assist affected residents.

The amount of oil released and the cause of the incident are still under investigation.
