

Field studies information sheet – March 2018

The Vancouver Fraser Port Authority’s Habitat Enhancement Program is conducting field studies in March 2018 as part of ongoing environmental and technical work for the proposed Maplewood Marine Restoration Project.

Study name	Summary
Archaeological and ecological conditions assessments – proposed Maplewood Marine Restoration site	Timing: Assessments are scheduled to start in early March and occur periodically throughout the month during daylight hours. Purpose: To assess potential archaeological values and existing physical and biological conditions at the proposed Maplewood Marine Restoration Project site. Field work area: The marine and upland areas of the proposed Maplewood Marine Restoration Project site, located on the north shore of Burrard Inlet, approximately two kilometres east of the Ironworkers Memorial Bridge, in North Vancouver, B.C. Methods: Archaeologists, biologists, and environmental engineers will be conducting site visits to determine potential archaeological values and assess the existing physical and biological conditions at the proposed project site. This work will include a bird stick nest survey in the conservation area.

For Further Information:

Web: www.portvancouver.com/habitatenhancement

Phone: 604.665.9071

Email: habitat.enhancement@portvancouver.com