

Commissioner Street Road and Rail Realignment Project Newsletter

August 2021

You are receiving this email because you signed up to receive updates about the Commissioner Street Road and Rail Realignment Project.

Updated summer construction schedule

Construction on the Commissioner Street Road and Rail Realignment Project is progressing well. The summer construction schedule was recently updated, as some activities were completed earlier than anticipated.

For the remainder of August 2021, general construction work will take place during the day, Monday to Sundays between 7:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. The detailed construction schedule can be found here.

Noise inquiries

The project team has implemented a new process to track and respond to project-related inquiries about noise. We invite you to direct any noise queries pertaining to the project to csrr@portvancouver.com.

To effectively monitor and respond to your noise queries, please include the following information:

- Date and time of noise (day and night)
- Description of noisy activity
- If this noise is new or has been heard since the project started construction on April 12, 2021
- Location of the source of the noise or where it is being heard from

About the project

The Vancouver Fraser Port Authority is undertaking a roadwork project to widen and realign Commissioner Street to the north between Nanaimo Street and Slocan Street in order to make room for Canadian Pacific Railway (CP) to add additional rail tracks. This project is being done to help improve the cargo capacity of port terminals on the south shore of Burrard Inlet in preparation for growth in Canadian trade, and the project received funding from the Government of Canada through the National Trade Corridors Fund.

The project is being delivered by B&B Heavy Civil Construction Ltd.
